two great trans-continental trains

Section accommodations are inexpensive and flexible. Reserve an upper or lower berth, or have the whole section to yourself. Each contains comfortable beds by night — soft, deep-sprung seats by day.

Bedrooms are fine for family travel. They make snug sleeping quarters by night and convert into comfortable living accommodations by day. They're self-contained, provide complete privacy and are typical of the bedrooms on the Super Continental.

The dining car of the Super Continental offers the comfort and cuisine of a hotel dining room, plus a picture window view of Canada's rolling countryside.

Dine on tasty meals in the Continental's dinette car. The menu ranges from light snacks to full-course meals, all moderately priced, expertly prepared, and served at an attractive counter.
