I'M AN OLD SOURDOUGH

*I'm an old Sourdough, that's what I am.
I cook my grub in an old pan,
I sleep on a bunk that's made of boughs.
MUSH, YOU MALAMUTES, MUSH.*

*I've hit the trail from Skag to Nome,
I've have climbed the ridge of Dawson's dome,
And downed my hooch with old Tom Chisholm.
MUSH, YOU MALAMUTES, MUSH.*

*I've rode the crest of old Whitehorse,
I've trailed the Klondike to its source,
But now the softies have their day,
They ride the air on gas highway.
HOWL, YOU MALAMUTES, HOWL.*

Tall totems and small curio shops
make Ketchikan (below)
a good port to stop, look and shop.

Mendenhall Glacier (front) near Juneau is a magnificent leftover from the Ice Age.
