

"A Sea of Mountains" was the epithet used by a Canadian statesman descriptive of the barrier of the Canadian Rockies which it was proposed to pierce by the Canadian Pacific Railway. "Fifty Switzerlands in One" was a later description made by Edward Whymper, the celebrated Alpine climber, who came to look over this terrain after conquering the Matterhorn. "Stupendous", "gigantic," "titanic", "sublime", "colossal", "awe-inspiring" are adjectives that come to the lips of those who look up to the rugged skyline of these mountains from the train, and yet these epithets seem inadequate to express their majesty.

Whether your approach to Banff and Lake Louise be from the East or from the Pacific Coast, these Alpine resorts in the Canadian Rockies come as a fitting climax to scenery which is a succession of thrills. The prairie Indians called the Canadian Rockies "The Glittering Mountains," from the white-capped peaks that caught the eye a hundred miles away. No sooner does your train enter the Gap than you are flanked by lofty cliffs pierced by passes through which you get glimpses of hanging glaciers on the ridges behind. West of the spectacular Three Sisters, you enter the wild game preserve of Buffalo Park, and detrain for the Banff Springs Hotel, which towers like a Scottish baronial castle above the falls of the Bow River. Banff itself lies in an amphitheatre of mountains, which have drawn so many hundred thousand visitors that facilities are now provided for every kind of sport or relaxation—golf, swimming, riding, tennis, fishing, climbing or hiking, not to mention the indoor sports associated with a lilting dance orchestra. The very air is electric, and you want to do things.

Lake Louise is forty miles nearer the Great Divide, and a thousand feet higher above sea-level. With a glacier at its front door, reflected in one of the loveliest of Alpine lakes, and with its rock gardens and borders of Iceland Poppies, the Chateau Lake Louise seems almost to have been dropped into fairyland. Here too are the amenities of a popular mountain resort—swimming pool, ponies for riding, canoes for fishing, tennis courts, Swiss guides for the Alpine climber, trails for the hiker—and a dance orchestra. A motor trip remarkable for its Alpine beauty can now be made over the nearly-completed Columbia Icefield Highway, north from Lake Louise towards the spectacular Saskatchewan Glacier. The route through this unsurpassed mountain country is flanked all the way by mighty glaciers, and adds another charming trip to the impressive list of motor drives available from Lake Louise. Both Banff and Lake Louise are outfitting points for trail-riding and camping trips.

The approach from the Pacific Coast is by way of the Fraser Canyon and the deep gorges of Eagle Pass, Rogers Pass and the Kicking Horse Pass—nearly four hundred miles of superb mountain scenery. As an engineering feat, this section of the Canadian Pacific Railway is one of the wonders of the world. You have to see it to believe it. Ravines breaking through the northern wall of the Kicking Horse Pass provide access to two fascinating summer resorts, Emerald Lake and the Yoho Valley, a paradise of waterfalls. Just before one reaches the Great Divide is Lake Wapta with its Lodge, eight miles by pony trail from Lake O'Hara, one of the most exquisitely beautiful spots in this Alpine domain. Lake Louise is just about ten miles farther East as the crow flies. In a word, the cream of the Canadian Rockies is concentrated in an area of about sixty miles located adjacent to the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

★ Saddle your pack and leave the bridle paths behind. Ride off with the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies—over little known trails, many of them blazed just for this band of adventurers. Ride where motor cars have never gone—above the timberline on the crest of the world. Head your horse over Alpine passes, through mountain meadows, surrounded by mighty peaks at every turn. The annual ride of five days marks a new adventure every year—with pack horses and guides. Earn your Trail Rider's buttons and brooches by your mileage. This summer the Trail Riders ride the new High Line Trail from Banff by way of Simpson Pass, Egypt Lakes, Shadow Lake, Storm Mountain and Taylor Lake to Moraine Lake near Lake Louise ... July 28 to August 1.

★ There are trails you'll never tread, mountain glories you'll never see and camping thrills you'll never know—until you join the Sky Line Hikers Camp in the Canadian Rockies. It's a congenial group of nature lovers. Artists, authors and interesting people comprise this band of Alpine hikers. And you're invited to join them for four companionable days (August 4-7) at this year's Camp in Ptarmigan Valley, north of Lake Louise. You'll gather round campfires and sing the songs of the mountains. Sleep up under the stars-nearer the moon among these tremendous peaks. There's also the Alpine Club of Canada's Annual Camp in the Ice River Valley near Field in the latter part of July.

Albert Canyon, British Columbia

Between the summit of the Great Divide and the level of the Kicking Horse River at Field, a distance of about eleven miles, there is a drop of over eleven hundred feet. To maintain a railway grade not exceeding 2.2 per cent. spiral tunnels were driven through Mount Ogden and Mount Cathedral making two complete circles. A five-mile tunnel was driven through Mount Macdonald — the celebrated Connaught Tunnel. These are only two of many spectacular engineering features on the Canadian Pacific Railway between Banff and the Pacific Coast. To enable the traveler to enjoy the magnificent scenery, open observation cars with wide windows are attached to supplement the regular observation cars on the mountain division so that you can see the towering peaks of Mount Cathedral and Mount Sir Donald without craning your neck, and can look down on the roaring cataracts that storm through the canyons at your side. At points such as Albert Canyon on Eagle Pass, trains passing there between 8.00 A.M. and 8.00 P.M., May 15 to September 15, inclusive, stop for a few minutes to enable passengers to peep down the gorge from a special platform.

The whole of the Pacific Slope is clad in luxuriant verdure, with enormous trees of spruce and Douglas fir enriching the mountain sides. With air-conditioned, fast transcontinental trains, the traveler by Canadian Pacific sees all these marvelous panoramas in comfort.

VANCOUVER. Canada's metropolis on the Pacific Coast, Vancouver has a fine harbor in a beautiful setting of mountain background. The sub-tropical virgin forest has been retained in Stanley Park—a natural reservation of 1,000 acres within the city limits. Nearby are Capilano, Lynn and Seymour Canyons, Grouse Mountain and Indian River Park. Great Canadian Pacific Empress steamships sail between Vancouver, Victoria, Honolulu and the Orient, and Canadian Australasian liners ply to and from Vancouver, Victoria, Honolulu, Fiji, New Zealand and Australia.

VICTORIA. Linked with Vancouver and Seattle by the Triangle Service of Canadian Pacific Princess liners, Victoria is a gracious bit of old England situated in the heart of Canada's Evergreen Playground. Overlooking the Inner Harbor is the charming Empress Hotel—headquarters for all who would enjoy the beauty, hospitality and outdoor life of Victoria. Set in lovely gardens and clad in ivy, the Empress Hotel invites you to its famous Crystal Garden playground, including one of the largest warm sea-water pools in America. And all Victoria calls you forth—to its colorful gardens, parks, museum, drives and imposing Parliament Buildings. [19]

Calgary Stampede—July 10-15

Calgary Stampede is the greatest event of its kind in the world, contestants coming from all parts of the continent to compete. All the typically "rodeo" events are featuredroping, broncho busting, covered wagon racing, Indian races, etc. Each year, too, there is the Stampede Ball when all Calgary goes carnival. No visitor to the West should miss this spectacle.

The Hotel Palliser, owned and operated by the Canadian Pacific, is the ideal headquarters. Rates range from $3.50 per day, European Plan.

After the Stampede, why not plan to spend a vacation in the Canadian Rockies? Banff is situated only 82 miles west of Calgary and can be reached by a short train journey, or by driving over an excellent motor highway. Lake Louise is also within easy access, being only two hours west of Banff.

Indian Days at Banff—July 20-23

Indian Days at Banff is one of the most colorful spectacles on the North American continent. Between three and four hundred Stoney Indians come from the Morley reserve, 40 miles east of Banff, for their tribal sports. The tribe travels on horse back, and the color schemes of their headdress and beaded costumes are fascinating.

Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies July 28-Aug. 1

An order called the "Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies" holds an official riding and camping trip each summer, starting from a convenient center. The dates of this year's ride are July 28-Aug. 1. The rate is $45 which includes horse, food, service of guides, and tent accommo-

The 1939 Trail Ride will follow a trail which is mostly new traversing very spectacular country over a high line between Banff and Moraine Lake, near Lake Louise. #### Swiss Guides' Rates

Swiss Guides are men thoroughly experienced in mountain climbing, gained by years of service in the Swiss Alps and latterly in the Canadian Rockies. They were engaged in Switzerland and placed in the Canadian Rockies some years ago by the Canadian Pacific Railway, to guide patrons desiring to climb in the Rockies and requiring the services of expert climbers. The Swiss village, "Edelweiss," has been established one mile west of Golden, as their permanent residence.

During the season the Guides' headquarters are at Chateau Lake Louise, but, if required, they will arrange to accompany parties for climbing trips from other resorts. Application for their services should be made to the Manager of Chateau Lake Louise at least a week or two in advance of time required.

Rate for each guide is $7.00 per day and sustenance, the guide providing ropes and ice axes.
