

All this—and tennis, too? Yes, at Banff Springs Hotel, luxurious as a baron's castle. Rugged, healthful outdoor days—gracious evenings—health-giving sleep in the clear mountain air—this is life in the famous Canadian Pacific Banff Springs Hotel and Chateau Lake Louise. Even closer to nature are the Mountain Lodges—where boating, hiking and riding in the shade of giant mountains fill your days.

Canada's Pacific Coast & Alaska

Miles Canyon, Alaska

Your Canadian holiday can be as many-sided as you wish to make it.
Twenty hours from Banff and Lake Louise is Vancouver, Western terminus of the Canadian Pacific.
From here speedy Canadian Pacific ships serve Seattle, Victoria, Vancouver Island, Alaska and the Yukon.
At Victoria, the ivy-clad Empress Hotel set in magnificent gardens is an ideal holiday headquarters.

Cruises from Vancouver cover an interesting itinerary of the Pacific Coast, Alaska and the Yukon. For particulars of sailings see your travel agent or nearest Canadian Pacific office.

Canadian Wonderland of Health & Fun

Everything you want—gracious living at Banff Springs Hotel and Chateau Lake Louise—sturdy, stocky mountain ponies for trail riding—plastic-topped buses, cars or bicycles for well-made highways—comfort and hearty fare in mountain lodges—and everywhere you look, eye-filling, sky-reaching mountains bathed in brilliant sunlight or veiled by massive cloud-banks.

Reached by regular trans-continental Canadian Pacific trains, the Canadian Rockies fit any holiday plan. And if you plan a longer vacation, this wonderland of health and fun offers variety westward to the Pacific Coast and Alaska—or eastward to old Quebec and the Atlantic.

Your travel agent or any Canadian Pacific office will make your reservations and plan your trip.
