IN THE ROCKIES

Range upon range, peak behind peak, glittering snow-caps, creeping glaciers, mighty torrents, leaping cascades, deep gorges, white-water rapids accompany you for more than 400 miles through the Canadian Rockies. Your Canadian Pacific trans-continental train, wide-windowed so you can enjoy every aspect of the world's most sustained spectacular journey, is timed to reach the most awe-inspiring sights in daylight.

Here the speed of the Kicking Horse River between Field and Golden, B.C., indicates the western flow of waters toward the mighty Pacific Ocean.
