In the CANADIAN ROCKIES

All year round three Canadian Pacific trans-continental trains cross the continent every day—west to the Pacific, eastward toward the Atlantic.

In summer additional trains provide even more frequent service. Air-conditioned cars, the latest types of sleeping car accommodations, Canadian Pacific dining car service add to the enjoyment of magnificent scenery. Schedules have been arranged for your enjoyment of the most spectacular parts of the Canadian Rockies by daylight—Mount Eisenhower, Banff, the Yoho Valley, Kicking Horse Pass, the mighty Columbia, the Fraser Canyon, peaks, glaciers, cascades, wild life, rushing rivers, mighty gorges.
