Stop off at

Glacier
national park

Glacier Park Hotel—Eastern Entrance to Glacier National Park.

EVERY trans-continental traveler by the Great Northern Railway should stop off at Glacier National Park. All tickets permit of stopover. Simply tell the Conductor; he will gladly give you detailed information.

There are 19 National Parks located within the confines of the United States, 19 playgrounds created by Uncle Sam for the benefit and enjoyment of the people of this country.

Of these 19 National Parks, only one, Glacier National Park, is located on the main trans-continental line of a railroad.

All of the Great Northern's trans-continental trains traverse the southern boundary of Glacier National Park.

Glacier Park station, Montana, is the eastern and principal entrance to the Park. Adjacent to the railroad station is Glacier Park Hotel, the gateway hostelry and starting point for trips farther north.

From Glacier Park Hotel four attractive auto trips may be made, as the automobile highway starts here.

From the front porches of this hotel an inspiring mountain panorama is spread before the tourist, and those who find the walking and horseback trips too strenuous take a deep delight in the ever-changing picture to be seen from the hotel itself.

From here trails radiate in several directions and the question for the tourist to decide is which trip to make first.

The following one- to-seven-day trips have been prepared especially for stopover tourists and will give an idea of what may be accomplished in this space of time.

Particular attention is directed to the standard four-day auto-launch (no horseback) trip as described on pages 5 and 6.

STANDARD FOUR-DAY TRIP

Automobile with Side Trip by Boat Visiting Two Medicine Lake, St. Mary Lake, Going-to-the-Sun Chalets and Many-Glacier Hotel

The following itinerary covers 150 miles of intensely interesting and beautiful mountain scenery. Easily accessible to the traveling public. This trip does not provide for any saddle-horse trips although a short trip can be made from Many-Glacier Hotel if desired. This four-day trip is particularly adapted to those who have but limited time to stay in the Park and wish to cover the principal points as quickly and comfortably as possible

Launch Trip Up St. Mary Lake to Going-to-the-Sun Chalets.

The morning of the first day is spent at Glacier Park Hotel where splendid views of the mountains are to be had from the hotel verandas and permits of short walking trips to the fish hatchery, to Dawson Falls or to Two Medicine Falls.

Two Medicine Lake is only twelve miles from Glacier Park Hotel by auto road. The schedule allows a stop of nearly three hours, sufficient to view Rising Wolf, Mount Rockwell and other mountains surrounding the Lake, visit Trick Falls, take a rowboat or launch ride on the lake or fish for the famous Cutthroat Trout.

The second day is spent en route to Many-Glacier Hotel over the fifty-five mile scenic mountain road, stopping a few minutes on the top of the Hudson Bay Divide and fifteen minutes at the St. Mary Chalets, reaching Many-Glacier Hotel for lunch. During the afternoon short walks may be taken to Josephine Lake where a splendid view of Grinnell Glacier may be had. Saddle-horses may be had for an afternoon trip to Iceberg Lake. Rowboats are available for short trips on Lake McDermott and the fisherman can try his luck for the game mountain trout. A splendid view of Grinnell, Gould and Wilbur Mountains and the fantastic "Garden Wall" is had from the front porches of the hotel. The night is spent at the Many-Glacier Hotel.

The third day—Leave Many-Glacier Hotel after breakfast by auto for St. Mary Chalets and from there take the boat trip ten miles up St. Mary Lake to Going-to-the-Sun Chalets. This is probably the most picturesque water trip in America. The mountains rise abruptly from the shore of the lake to a height of a mile above the water. Going-to-the-Sun Mountain is the finest in its classic outline of any in the Park, while Red Eagle, Little Chief, Fusillade, Reynolds, Jackson and Gunsight Mountains comprise a fascinating mountain framing of the entire St. Mary Valley. Lunch is ready at Going-to-the-Sun Chalets on arrival of the boat. The Chalets are located picturesquely. World travelers have pronounced the view from the Chalet porches, "the finest setting they have ever encountered."

The fourth day is devoted to the return journey from Going-to-the-Sun Chalets to Glacier Park Hotel, arriving in time for dinner and for train connections east and west.
