

RECREATION

Whatever your preference, you'll find plenty to do on your stay at the Prince of Wales Hotel. Over 150 miles of safe, well-marked trails lead into the heart of some of the highest mountains in the park area, on foot or by horseback. An easy walk takes you to lovely Cameron Falls nearby and the deep gorge of Red Rock Canyon. Streams tumbling down mountainsides and many lakes offer game trout fishing. Ride the 250-passenger launch on Waterton Lake across the international border in the mountain amphitheater of the valley. You'll see Rocky Mountain goats sporting near the summits. Golf, if you like, on the fine 18-hole course in nearby Waterton village. At night there is diversified entertainment. There are shops and movies in Waterton village, a short walk from the hotel.

GENERAL

At Prince of Wales Hotel, sportswear and informal clothing is universally worn. Warm sweaters, jackets and topcoats are particularly useful, as is warm underwear in early summer and fall. You'll want low-heeled walking shoes.

A complete photo supply service, including developing and printing, is provided by the hotel—so bring your camera!

There is a souvenir shop in the lobby.

In Waterton Lakes Village, Catholic and Protestant services on Sundays at 11 A.M.

The services of a physician and trained nurse, as well as medicinal supplies, are available at the hotel.

Waterton Lakes National Park is hay fever free!

No passports are required of American citizens entering Canada. Naturalized citizens of the U. S. must provide documentary evidence of citizenship.

INFORMATION & RESERVATIONS

Room reservations for the Prince of Wales Hotel may be made at any ticket office of the Great Northern Railway in the United States and Canada. Your Great Northern travel agent will gladly aid in planning your entire trip. He will arrange transportation to the Park and furnish complete details of all Park activities.

Or you may make reservation
by mail or telegraph direct to:

GLACIER PARK COMPANY
East Glacier Park, Montana

Waterton Lakes National Park

In the Canadian Rockies

PRINCE OF WALES HOTEL

ON A HIGH PROMONTORY

Many-gabled Prince of Wales Hotel, dedicated by the prince who became Edward VIII, welcomes you to one of the most picturesque mountain playgrounds in the world. The hotel stands like a throne on a high promontory commanding the entrance to a mountain-walled valley that cradles seven-mile long Waterton Lake and bustling Waterton village. Its high peaked roofs, tall panoramic lobby windows, old English country-home architecture provide an enchanting international flavor for vacationists who pause here at the crossroads between the lofty Canadian Rockies resorts and snow-crowned Glacier National Park in the Montana Rockies, its neighbor to the south.

LOCATION

The Prince of Wales Hotel is in the heart of Canada's Waterton Lakes National Park in Alberta and is one of four major hotels in the Waterton Lakes-Glacier National Park area. All-expense tour motor coaches take vacationists daily to the hotel from the Great Northern Railway entrances to Glacier Park, along excellent scenic highways. Motor coach routes lead to the hotel from the Canadian resorts at Banff, Lake Louise and Jasper National Park and from nearby points served by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

ACCOMMODATIONS

You'll appreciate the comfortable beds, completely modern rooms that make your stay at the Prince of Wales Hotel so restful. Most of the 90 rooms have private bath; all have telephone service and are steam heated. Laundry and valet service is available. Rates for rooms range from $10.00 to $15.00 per person per day, including meals. The hotel can accommodate 150 guests.

CUISINE

Brisk mountain air induces hearty appetites — and the Prince of Wales Hotel is famous for satisfying them! In the large spic-and-span dining room, overlooking Waterton Lake, you can select your favorite dish from a wide choice of foods. And you'll always enjoy attentive, courteous service. The price of your meals is included in your room rate.