A LAND OF FISH AND GAME

SPOKANE is the city within hearing of the call of the wild. They who hunt, or they who fish will find in Spokane an unparalleled base of operations. A raging torrent passes through the city itself. Pellucid lakes shimmer among the mountains in almost any direction, to be reached by fine automobile roads or electric trains, and abounding in sport.

A few hours' ride in an auto places one within the untrammelled haunts of the fleet and timid deer, or the fiercer bear and cougar. The camera is in constant requisition by those who snap the scenes they visit.

There are many things about the west that travelers need not see. But assuredly they should stop and see
