

Great Northern Country... A Great American Food Basket

Almost all of the delicious food you enjoy on Great Northern streamliners . . . and much of the food you enjoy in your home . . . is produced right here in Great Northern Country.

This is an area richly endowed by nature and abundantly blessed with the great variety of human skills needed to fill, and keep full, America's Food Basket.

This is an area of agricultural prowess vital not only to its own economic well-being, but vitally important to the success of the whole American economy.

And this is an area with which Great Northern Railway is in close partnership. For it is our pleasant task to carry to you wherever you may live these superb food products of soil and sea.
