WATERTON LAKES

Canada's colorful
National Park

Magnificent Mountain Playground

of unspoiled natural beauty
...Old-World charm

Cradled high in the Canadian Rockies, Waterton Lakes National Park—just across the border—is Canada's counterpart to Glacier National Park. (Both are easily accessible via Great Northern Railway.) Vacation fun ranges from browsing in the quaint, Old English shops of Waterton Village—to horseback or hiking “discoveries” of gigantic rock amphitheaters and hidden lakes in surrounding mountains.

You'll long remember your visit to Glacier Park's "Good neighbor to the North"

WATERTON LAKES

Whether you sit tall in a saddle or mosey along in hiking boots, Waterton Park greets you with a rare collection of scenic gems. Visit Crypt Lake—so remote in its wildly beautiful setting, your only "entrance" is through a tunnel and up a stairway of rock. Zig-zag up the side of Mt. Alderson, past several waterfalls and view the vivid emerald waters of Bertha Lake. Or follow Blakiston Brook to Lost Lake, Sage Pass, Twin Lakes—then over South Kootenay Pass. Gaze down on deep, ice-sculptured valleys. Wander through alpine meadows aflame with wildflowers. Thrill to colossal walls of glistening, multi-colored peaks. Study nature. Take pictures. Swim. Fish. Golf. Relax in the cozy comfort of the Prince of Wales Hotel. In every way your "memory book" on Waterton will read, "I spent a great vacation in Canada!"

Smart gift shop in lobby of Prince of Wales Hotel features British tweeds and china, Hudson Bay blankets, Scottish woolens and cashmeres, other treasured imports.

Swimming—Lake Linnet near Prince of Wales Hotel. Superior swimming and wading facilities now are provided by a newly-completed half-million-dollar heated pool located nearby.

Golfer's delight—sporty, 18-hole course on rolling slopes of Mt. Crandall. Lush greens, pine-fringed fairways. That high altitude helps you "bust 'em a mile!"

Fighting trout are fed into rushing streams and cool, clear lakes from modern Waterton Lakes Fish Hatchery.

The angling's great—and so is the view of nearby forests, snow-capped peaks. Abundant wildlife includes deer, bear, mountain goat and sheep, beaver—even buffalo.

Cameron Falls—shimmering cascade surrounded by fish-filled ponds—a short hike from Waterton Village. For a full day of fun-filled excursion, ride horseback over any of 160 broad trails—or hike easy trails to one of four nearby mountains.

Glorious, glacier-carved scenery... a variety of vacation fun!
