Dearest Mart,

Life is in a Hell of a mess! I can't make it to your engagement party because I won't even be in the East. Telegrams and phone calls have been flying to and fro between me and my family and we are definitely at a parting of the ways. They're in a complete uproar about me and Richard because, you know, they are not overwhelmingly thrilled with but I guess you understand better than anyone else how family problems arise, and how it's like beating your head against a stone wall to try and fight it. I'm a wreck. Anyway, I send my dearest love and all kinds of congratulations to you both and will be there on the third in spirit if not in body.

I'm so happy for you and only wish I were as lucky! Have a wonderful time and drink a toast to yourselves for me in the match. They have told me to stay out here until about the 10th of September in hopes that I will forget about him or at least not see as much of him before college begins, so hear all is! Stuck in the West! I really adore this place and was very sad at the thought of leaving but I had been looking forward to celebrating the big day with you and Sam ever since last winter and wouldn't have missed it for the world if I could have helped it. If my parents only realized it, they are just driving me closer to Rick by doing this. Marty, I can't tell you how sorry I am that I can't come,
