NP FAMILY FARES

Vacation means family travel and you'll be pleasantly surprised at the money you can save by taking advantage of Northern Pacific's Family Fare Plan.

It works out like this. Suppose Mom and Dad and Junior, age 11, and Sis, age 7, and the youngest one in the family, age 3, are going to take a trip.

On Family Plan, Dad pays regular fare. Mother pays two-thirds, Junior and Sis each pay one-third of regular fare and the youngest rides free.

Consult with your Northern Pacific Passenger Representative at your nearest NP ticket office. Let him show you how much the Family Fare Plan can save for you . . . and remember on the Northern Pacific Family Fare Plan, you can go any day . . . no waiting.
