I thought of you all at dear little Sunnyside on Christmas day, and heartily wished myself there to eat my Christmas dinner among you. I hope you kept up Christmas in the usual style, and that the cottage was decked with evergreens. You must not let my absence cause any relaxations in the old rules and customs of the cottage; everything must go on the same as it did when I was there.

Excerpt from a letter to Miss Sarah Irving, Washington Irving's niece, dated January 13, 1843, at Madrid when he served as United States Minister to Spain. (Portrait of Irving by Charles R. Leslie, original at Sunnyside)
