Above:

GLENWOOD CANYON of the Colorado River is a most appropriate meeting point for the east and westbound California Zephyrs. It was in this colorful chasm, in 1944, that the idea of the Vista-Dome was first conceived.

Front Cover:

MAROON BELLS (14,126 feet above sea level) are outstanding attractions in a mountain territory noted for its scenic delights. Separating Pitkin and Gunnison Counties, Maroon Bells are enchanting at any season, but particularly fortunate is the traveler who sees them in autumnal splendor.
