

From the Bottom of the Gorge

Because of its narrow confines the view from the bottom of the ROYAL GORGE is perhaps more exciting than from the top. Each daylight passenger train stops at the hanging bridge which is almost directly under the suspension bridge at the top as well as being almost directly at the foot of the incline railway. The combination of views of the high bridge overhead, the steep railway descending, the towering walls of the gorge on each side, the dashing river, coupled with the echo of the locomotive thru the gorge and the black smoke swirling up the great walls, is very effective.

NON
ROYAL GORGE
World's Highest Bridge
1949
SANSBORN SOUVENIR CO., DENVER, COLO.

Mailed From

ROYAL GORGE

World's Highest Bridge

POST CARD

Grandma just walked over this bridge + am
seeing lots of smokestacks
love

Grandma.

Miss Tania Kuenzle
811 Marquises Ave
Upper Sandusky
Ohio