

Grand Canyon has no special season
- come any time you like ..

Few places in the world are so varied and interesting the year 'round, and few scenic attractions so completely arranged for visitors as Grand Canyon.

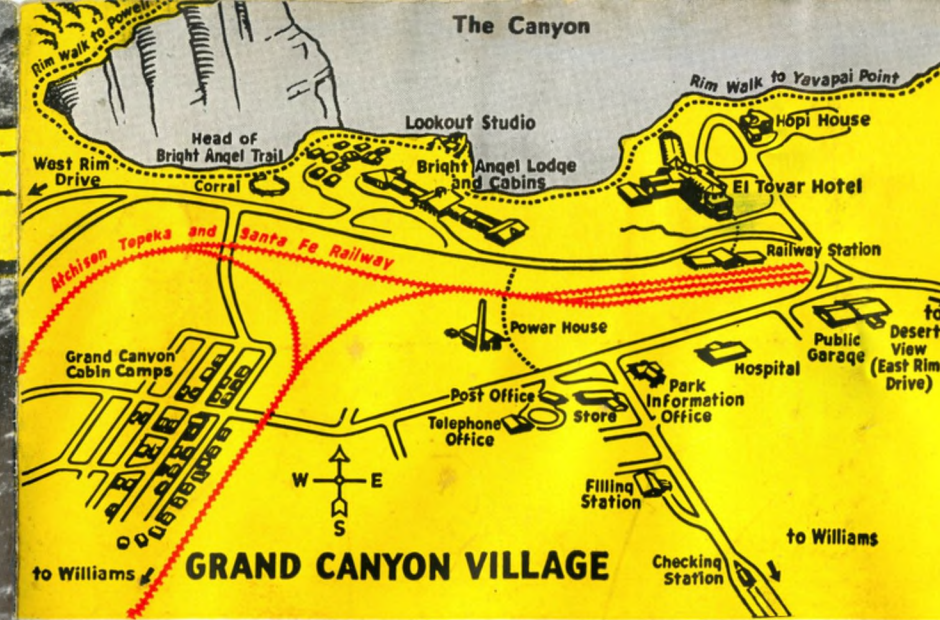

You are carried right to the South Rim in Santa Fe sleeping cars. Upon arrival you can spend your time walking along rim paths or take longer rim tours by motor coach. At observation points you can relax and spend hours viewing the many wonders of the Canyon, you will marvel at its ever-changing beauty from sunup to sunset. If you stay longer than a day you will want to take a trail trip down into the Canyon and extend your rim tours to see more of this scenic wonder.

El Tovar Hotel and Bright Angel Lodge and Cabins on the rim, as well as Phantom Ranch at the bottom, all under Fred Harvey management, provide comfortable accommodations during your visit.

You can enjoy Grand Canyon at any season, and each season brings its own special attraction and charm to this scenic masterpiece.

Let your Santa Fe passenger representative or tourist agent tell you how easy you can include Grand Canyon in your trip via Santa Fe - the more-to-enjoy-route.

GRAND CANYON

Go Santa Fe to the rim!

the South Rim is an all-year vacation wonder spot!

Visitors can stroll along the many footpaths on the rim and enjoy views of the Canyon from different points of interest. (Below) On the famous "Grand Canyon Mules" guides take visitors down Canyon trails that have been built by government engineers and sited for beauty as well as safety.

Many observation points, such as the Yavapai Observation Station, where lectures are given by the National Parks staff (above), and the Watchtower at Desert View (below), provide sweeping views of the Canyon.

"At the bottom of it all"—scene below shows trail party pausing at the Colorado River, a vertical mile below the rim. This party will stop overnight at Phantom Ranch before returning to the rim of the Canyon.

El Tovar, a rustic western style hotel on the rim of the Canyon, is one of the most famous resort hotels in America.

Bright Angel Lodge and Cabins, providing popular priced accommodations, form an interesting little village on the Canyon's rim.

Phantom Ranch at the bottom of the Canyon provides delightful overnight accommodations for visitors taking trail trips.

Rim drives by Harvey motor coaches, with experienced driver-guides, enable visitors to completely see this great scenic panorama.

Motor Trips

The Grand Canyon Rim Drive

Morning Drive: Harvey Motor Coaches leave El Tovar Hotel and Bright Angel Lodge, traveling westward over Hermit Rim Road along the brink of the chasm. Stops are made at Powell, Hopi, Mohave and Pima Points—each affording its own superb view—and, finally, at Hermit's Rest. The latter, a striking cliff-house built of Canyon boulders—with its rustic lounge, great fireplace and observation porch—is an attraction in itself.

Afternoon Drive: After luncheon the route is eastward over the newly paved Desert View Road through the Kaibab National Forest and along the Canyon's Rim. Stops are made at Yavapai Observation Station and at Yaki, Moran and Lipan Points. The end of the drive eastward brings the traveler to The Watchtower at Desert View, a re-creation of the ancient towers erected by the prehistoric inhabitants of the Southwest. Built on a high, rocky point overlooking the Painted Desert, The Watchtower commands one of the most magnificent of Grand Canyon views as well as a sweeping panorama of the Kaibab Forest and the Navajo Indian Country.

RATES: $7.00 per person, including light refreshments at Hermit's Rest and The Watchtower. (Rates for the morning and afternoon sections of the drive, if taken separately, are $3.00 and $6.00 respectively.) Children 6 to 11, inclusive, half rate. (These rates do not include tax.)

All-Expense One-Day Tour

Tour 1-A . . . Rate $11.00 per person . . . Children, 6 to 11, inclusive, $5.50. (These rates do not include tax.)

Includes: Motor transportation, with driver-guide; three meals at El Tovar Hotel.

Program: Breakfast at El Tovar Hotel. Motor drive westward along the famous Rim Road to Hermit's Rest, with leisurely stops at important scenic points en route. Luncheon at El Tovar Hotel. Motor trip eastward over the Desert View Road, through the Kaibab National Forest and along the Canyon's brink, with stops at Yavapai Point Observation Station, at the principal Rim Points and at The Watchtower.

Motor Trips along the South Rim of Grand Canyon operate the year 'round.

Trail Trips

To many visitors, the "high spot" of a Grand Canyon Outing is the "adventure on muleback" down one of the famous inner-canyon trails.

One-Day Bright Angel Trail Trip

Each morning trail parties on muleback, in charge of Fred Harvey guides, leave El Tovar Hotel and Bright Angel Lodge. A few minutes' ride to the head of Bright Angel Trail . . . and the great "adventure" is begun! About half way down, a brief stop is made at Indian Gardens, after which the trail stretches out upon the Tonto Plateau and presently heads downward into the Granite Gorge leading to the rocky banks of the Colorado River, where a stop is made for rest and luncheon. The return journey is made in easy stages, reaching the hotels on the Rim late in the afternoon.

RATES: $7.50 per person, including luncheon and services of guide. Children, regardless of age, are charged full fare. (This rate does not include tax.)

Two-Day Phantom Ranch Trip

At eleven o'clock each morning, Harvey Motor Coaches leave El Tovar Hotel and Bright Angel Lodge for the head of Bright Angel Trail, where the descent by muleback begins. For the first day the trail trip takes us down, down, down . . . to the Colorado River and across the Suspension Bridge, then on to Phantom Ranch for dinner and overnight stop.

Second Day: The return journey is made over Kaibab Trail arriving on the South Rim in the late afternoon.

RATES: Phantom Ranch two-day trip, including saddle mule trip over Bright Angel Trail to Phantom Ranch and return over Kaibab Trail, 23 miles; with guide service, two meals and overnight accommodations at Phantom Ranch, and two box lunches on trail, $22.00. (This rate does not include tax.)

Phantom Ranch

Picturesquely located at the bottom of the Grand Canyon and nestling among the towering crags of Bright Angel Canyon—nearly a vertical mile below the South Rim—is Phantom Ranch, one of the most unique resorts in the world. With its rustic cabins, central dining room and recreation halls and its crystal-clear swimming pool, Phantom Ranch affords every comfort for a brief or extended stay in the depths of the Canyon.
