

1838 - A CENTURY OF SERVICE - 1938

815-20 Marquette Building
Chicago, Ill.

In 1833 the first petition for a charter to construct a railroad between City Point and Petersburg was presented to the Virginia Legislature. It was denied. Petition after petition met the same discouraging fate. But the pioneer railroaders, each time unwilling to admit failure, returned to the struggle with renewed determination to succeed.
