

For many decades the people of San Francisco dreamed of a bridge across the narrow channel of the Golden Gate, through which the tide waters of the Pacific Ocean move into San Francisco Bay. Ground was broken in 1933 for the gigantic structure, which was completed in about four years. Built at a cost of $35,000,000, it is the loftiest and longest single-span cable suspension type bridge in the world, and the first ever built across the mouth of a major harbor.

It was originally intended to be painted black, but when it got its coat of red lead to protect it from rust, beauty-loving San Franciscans were so taken with the spectacular color flaming against the blue sky and dark water that it was decided to leave it that way.

Its graceful architecture is a thing of beauty; it has wide drive-ways to carry the endless traffic that is offered between the Peninsula and the North Bay shore; and it stands as a fitting monument to the progressive spirit of San Francisco and the Bay Area.
