

The towering spires and minarets and immeasurable grotesque formation of Bryce Canyon are ablaze with myriad shades of delicate colors.

Dream Lake is typical of the magnificent Colorado Rocky regions that lure hundreds of thousands of visitors yearly.

At San Diego, the California Pacific International Exposition is open again this year in the exquisite Balboa Park setting.

Yellowstone's spectacular Old Faithful Geyser hurls a great column of boiling water skyward at hourly intervals with clock-like regularity.

About twice the height of the Empire State Building, the massive Great White Throne dominates Zion Canyon like an impenetrable fortress. Its sheer walls defy exploration.

WHO is there who hasn't had a secret yearning ever since school days to Go West—to relive the thrilling episodes of old frontier days, on the ground—to visit the incredibly beautiful and strange regions, true stories of which were disbelieved in the days of the pioneer explorers, and which are still greatly discounted by all but those who have actually been there themselves. Who is there who hasn't felt this urge, time after time—particularly during the past few years? If we could only get out in "God's Country" and forget everything! For only a week would help. Two weeks would seem too good to be true. A month or more—Paradise!

Nowhere else in the world is there such a wide variety of scenic wonderlands as in the Union Pacific West. Nowhere else more romantic spots so saturated with the thrilling lore of heroic exploits of the building of an empire. And, nowhere else can you find more refreshing, invigorating climates—cool, sunny days; crisp, sparkling nights; clear, clean, tonic air. You would like a new lease on life? The Union Pacific West insures it.

The purpose of this folder, with its typical scenes of representative western vacation playgrounds and its pictorial map, is merely to suggest the many solutions of your problems of where to go and how to get there most quickly, conveniently and economically.

For a trip West today, Union Pacific offers a new experience in carefree travel pleasure, including many delightful features not available by any other form of transportation. Courteous, attentive service on our famous fleet of modern, air-conditioned trains has made travel to and from all the West so simple that tiny tots traveling alone are familiar figures among our guests almost daily. The many comforts and conveniences provided on our trains make them veritable metropolitan hotels on wheels. Startling new economies in travel services on all of our trains, and sharp reductions in fares, have eliminated the cost bogey which used to deter many from traveling out to the regions of their dreams in the glorious West. And, believe it or not, in these days of increasing fatalities from traffic tangles, you are safer on a train than in your own home.

Select the vacation region of your choice from among the many suggested in this folder. Any one, or several of them, may easily be included in a two weeks' trip from any point in the United States. Many of them may be visited with only a week at your disposal.

Your nearest Union Pacific representative will be delighted to provide you with detailed descriptive literature, beautifully illustrated; furnish you with complete information on the regions you are particularly interested in—and assist you in every way possible in planning just the vacation you desire—with maximum travel value at minimum cost. If you prefer to travel the all-expense, tour way, our Department of Tours offers a wide variety of escorted trips to all the regions of the Union Pacific West.

Plan your trip early. Enjoy the thrills of anticipation which are a delightful part of a western vacation. Call on your nearest Union Pacific representative for expert travel counsel and complete information, or simply mail the coupon on the map page.
