

The magic that is Sun Valley — its incomparable scenic beauty — its gay festivals — its world-famous lodge — its skiing and winter sports — has now been immortalized on the screen!

Set against the natural beauty of Sun Valley, Idaho, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Duchess of Idaho" is unmatched in the scope and splendor of its Technicolor reproduction.

Starring Esther Williams, Van Johnson and John Lund, with Paula Raymond and such guest stars as Lena Horne, Eleanor Powell, Connie Haines and Mel Torme, "Duchess of Idaho" proves a worthy tribute to the setting.

The film faithfully reproduces many popular spots of Sun Valley. The lodge itself, where much of the action takes place; the swimming pool, a perfect setting for the aquatic talents of star Esther Williams; the Trail Creek Cabin and the Round House; Dollar and Baldy Mountains and the torchlight parade of the Ski Patrol.

It was the sheer beauty and romance of Sun Valley that inspired Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to assign writers to create a story using the world-famous resort as its background. The finished product is a gay romantic comedy liberally spiced with such divertissements as water ballets, songs by Connie Haines and Mel Torme, and specialty numbers by Lena Horne and Eleanor Powell.

Sun Valley is as much a star of the picture as Esther Williams. Those who are familiar with it will find themselves longing to return. Those who have yet to experience it will find their appetites whetted by the film.

"Duchess of Idaho" was directed by Robert Z. Leonard and produced by Joe Pasternak.
