JANUARY Sun Valley, Idaho, lies in the foothills of the Sawtooth Mountains in Idaho. There is an excellent terrain with long, timber-free ski runs, and a record of plenty of dry, powder snow lasting into the spring months. At this world-famed winter sports center is an alpine-type village comprising Sun Valley Lodge, Challenger Inn, several dormitory chalets, a moving picture theater, stores, post office, and other buildings. Sun Valley is owned and operated by the Union Pacific Railroad.

FEBRUARY Most famous of all geysers is "Old Faithful," in Yellowstone National Park. Regularly, on an average of every 65 minutes, it erupts a hissing, boiling pillar of water approximately 140 feet straight up into the air. This spectacle of towering water and floating clouds of steam exists for about four minutes, then subsides until the scheduled time of its next performance. It has been estimated that in one day this geyser discharges approximately 250,000 gallons of water.

MARCH Erosion, the tireless sculptor in nature's processes, carved Zion Canyon from the red and white sandstone cliffs of Southern Utah. Along its walls were left many beautiful rock temples. Outstanding among them is The Great White Throne, towering 2,475 feet above the river at its base, its wooded crest "an inaccessible island in the air." Its lower portion is red, its upper surface tinting from rosy buff to chalky white.

MAY Bryce Canyon National Park in southwestern Utah has been called "Nature's Art Gallery." Erosion is the artist that has carved the delicate and fantastic statuesque figures and given the region its cameo-like loveliness. All of the formations are banded lavishly with colors, tints of red, orange, pink, and off-whites. Bryce Canyon Lodge provides ample accommodations for travelers.

JUNE Scenic delights of a high order are found in the inner recesses of Rocky Mountain National Park, Colorado. This popular national playground is about seventy miles northwest of Denver, the charming mile-high state capital, reached by Union Pacific Railroad. Colorado is scenically beautiful throughout its length and breadth. It boasts more mountain peaks towering over 14,000 feet than any other state in the Union; in fact, more than all other states combined.

AUGUST In the Cascade Range of the Pacific Northwest are some of the finest examples of isolated mountain peaks. Among these is Mt. Hood, quickly reached by highway from Portland, Oregon, on the Union Pacific Railroad. This 11,245-foot snow-clad peak carries seven glaciers. It is a favorite of mountain climbers because it is friendly and relatively free from dangerous hazards.

OCTOBER The San Francisco skyline, framed by the mighty towers of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, is an impressive sight. This great bridge that links the East Bay with "The City" is a miracle in steel, and its giant cables hang with grace and ease from the lofty towers that stand firmly on the rock below the waters of San Francisco Bay. Begun in 1933, it was opened to traffic in 1936. Total cost was nearly 80 million dollars. The structure, with approaches, is about eight and one-quarter miles long, suspension type to Yerba Buena Island and cantilever type from there to the shore at Oakland.

NOVEMBER Mission Santa Barbara is today one of the best preserved of any of the old mission buildings constructed in Southern California by the early Spanish padres. It was built in 1815 to replace an earlier structure destroyed by an earthquake in 1812, and is a classic example of blended Spanish and Moorish architecture.

DECEMBER Gigantic Hoover Dam, about 29 miles from Las Vegas, Nevada, represents one of the great engineering feats of our generation. It extends across the Colorado River between Nevada and Arizona, holds back the raging stream and diverts its energy into industrial power uses. Las Vegas is on the main line of the Union Pacific Railroad.
