Travel Relaxed to a Relaxing Vacation

COLORADO'S delightfully cool climate . . . its scenic and recreational attractions . . . are something to think about when you want to bid a hasty farewell to summer's heat and find complete relaxation in an area noted for its rugged mountains, sparkling lakes and streams. Colorado has many fine dude ranches and resorts popular with summer visitors.

Also in Colorado's favor is its central location. Between Chicago and Denver there is convenient over-night-every night service on the new Streamliner "City of Denver."

Rugged peaks and placid lakes beckon the outdoor enthusiast.

This fine train offers the latest in travel luxury and comfort. There is no extra fare. It offers a wide range of Pullman accommodations . . . . sleep-easy Coach seats with modern leg rests . . . inviting Club and Lounge Cars, including the old English tavern-type car called "The Pub."

From St. Louis-Kansas City, the Streamliner, "City of St. Louis" provides similar service and equipment. Also fine daily service to and from Pacific Coast points. You ride in air-conditioned comfort, perfectly relaxed.

On all Union Pacific trains, the dining cars serve those famous "meals that appeal" . . . top quality foods freshly prepared and graciously served.

Colorado is a land of countless charms.

Some advantages of Train Travel

COMFORT. In spacious Pullmans or in Coaches with individual reclining seats, you can travel perfectly relaxed and there's plenty of train space in which to move around.

PRIVACY. If occupying a roomette, bedroom, compartment, or drawing room, you have complete privacy. You can rest, work, entertain and have meals served as in a hotel room.

CONVENIENCE. Almost all railway stations are located in or very near the heart of the city, convenient to hotels, business buildings, shops, etc.

DEPENDABILITY. It is an extremely rare case when weather conditions interrupt train service for any length of time.

SAFETY. It's reassuring to know that statistics prove "you're safer on a train than in your own home."

AND FOR CHILDREN — no other form of transportation is less confining than rail travel. Youngsters get restless — need to stretch their legs — and a train gives them room to do just that.
