

On the north shore of San Francisco is the harbor of the Italian fishing fleet, popularly known as Fishermen's Wharf, and visited annually by many thousands of tourists because of its picturesque background and romantic traditions. Here the tall-masted trawlers of the sardine fleet jostle the tiny boats of the crab fishermen, brightly painted, often in blue—the "Virgin's color."

A trip around the city is hardly complete without seeing this busy and intriguing mart with its rainbow colors. Even if the fleet is out there is plenty of activity to fascinate the visitor—net mending by some of the fishermen left behind; painting and repairing of boats by others; freshly caught crabs boiling in big iron cauldrons at the curb to be tended.

Here, also, are many fine night clubs and restaurants specializing in deliciously fresh sea foods.
