

California calls to the traveler, the pleasure seeker and the home builder. Its mountains, its seashore, its great romantic cities and its industrial opportunities each extend the invitation. Among its attractions, however, not the least are its network of fine highways, its splendid city boulevards and its scenic drives.

Carmel Bay, near Monterey, is a favorite spot for artists and photographers who endeavor to catch on canvas or film the beauty which nature has fashioned here. Rocky promontories topped by wind-bent trees add to the charm of this fascinating place. Monterey cypress along the shoreline and Monterey pine, both named for the one-time California capital, grow in a limited area in the vicinity. The constant surging of the surf in the coves and inlets is exciting to the eye and ear. Nearby Pebble Beach is the golfing "mecca" of the West, and many other forms of outdoor sport are also enjoyed in this resort area.

Enchanting Monterey Coast at Midway Point. The much photographed Monterey Bay has been likened by many to the world-famous Bay of Naples. For tourists the "17-Mile Drive Tour" between Monterey and Carmel is most popular.
