

FABULOUS WILSHIRE BOULEVARD

Wilshire Boulevard, one of the world's most sophisticated streets, begins in downtown Los Angeles, at Grand Avenue, and runs to Ocean Avenue in Santa Monica. From the Statler Hotel at Figueroa Street, past the Sheraton West, the famous Ambassador Hotel and its "Cocoanut Grove," the original Brown Derby Restaurant, the Beverly Wilshire and the Beverly Hilton, to the Miramar Hotel at Ocean Avenue—this ultra-modern avenue of hotels, business skyscrapers, world renowned department stores, smart shops, and beautiful apartments . . . is constantly renewing its face and fame as the world's most celebrated street.

The boulevard splits General MacArthur Park (pictured here) and continues through the exclusive Wilshire District and Miracle Mile, past Prudential Square and the famed La Brea tar pits in Hancock Park with its museum of the "ice age." Further west at La Cienega Boulevard (famed as "Restaurant Row") begins the city of Beverly Hills, home of so many celebrities of stage, screen and TV. Several blocks of "dream" apartment houses lead to the beautifully planned community of Westwood Village, home of the University of California at Los Angeles (U.C.L.A.). On past historic Sawtelle Veterans Home is Brentwood and finally Santa Monica. It is worth a trip to Los Angeles just to ride from one end of Wilshire Boulevard to the other . . . you'll have to see it to believe it.

Some famous land marks near where Wilshire Blvd. divides General MacArthur Park are (reading right to left): Elks Club, Congregational Church, Fifield Apartments, low moderns next to Elks Club are the Los Angeles County Art Museum, Sheraton Park West, American Cement, tower of famed Bullock's "Wilshire," Pacific Indemnity Co., Texaco, I. B. M. and Tishman buildings.
