Dear Friend:

We have now reached California. The party numbers forty-seven and all are well and enjoying the trip. Coming across the Continent was of great interest and many places of interest were visited such as the summit of Pikes Peak, 1409 ft. above sea level. Four National Parks have been visited on the way to the Coast, namely, Yellowstone, Bryce Canyon, Zion and the Grand Canyon. From Cedar City we motored for five days to the latter three Parks. At the Grand Canyon we were 187 miles from the nearest railroad to the north. The climate here in California is perfectly wonderful and the fruits are fine. We had a trip down into old Mexico on Saturday and saw a bit of the old Mexican life.

Mr. Shenk has informed us that he is operating a tour to the New England States on September 19, 1929, and this winter to Florida, and in the early spring to Europe and the Holy Lands.

Yours sincerely,
