GOING HOME

(Burlington Route)

By WILLA CATHER

How smoothly the trains run beyond the Missouri;
Even in my sleep I know when I have crossed the river.
The wheels turn as if they were glad to go;
The sharp curves and windings left behind,
The roadway wide open,
The crooked straight
And the rough places plain.

They run smoothly, they run softly, too.
There is not noise enough to trouble the lightest sleeper.
Nor jolting to wake the weary-hearted.
I open my window and let the air blow in,
The air of morning,
That smells of grass and earth—
Earth, the grain-giver.

How smoothly the trains run beyond the Missouri;
Even in my sleep I know when I have crossed the river.
The wheels turn as if they were glad to go;
They run like running water,
Like Youth, running away . . .
They spin bright along the bright rails,
Singing and humming,
Singing and humming,
They run remembering,
They run rejoicing,
As if they, too, were going home.

THE ARISTOCRAT

---

The 1935 ARISTOCRAT is the 48th annual edition of the oldest long-distance train in America; and the leader of the Burlington fleet that includes several of the finest trains in the world.

It operates over the main line of this railroad between Chicago and Denver — 1034 miles.

The Aristocrat is really three trains. As one Aristocrat is leaving Chicago in the forenoon its exact counterpart is nearing Denver, and a third Aristocrat is rushing eastward through Iowa on its way to Chicago.

Thus three complete trains — all exactly alike — are required to perform this crack service, and their regular equipment involves about forty cars, although during the summer vacation season the average runs as high as fifty cars.

THE ARISTOCRAT

In every detail of equipment the ARISTOCRAT lives up fully to its name.

Its matched Pullmans, done in pearl-green with rose undertone, and superbly appointed throughout, offer the quiet elegance of the town club . . . deep-cushioned, winged seats, lazily restful . . . colorful rugs of Oriental splendor to soften the footfall . . . mellow lights and individual reading lamps . . . spacious dressing rooms to make the morning toilette a refreshing pleasure.

Window frames are of solid brass; the plate glass panes are cushioned in live rubber to preclude annoying squeak or rattle; window ventilators are adjustable by a mere touch; aisle rugs cover the vestibule platforms between cars.

All equipment will be fully air-conditioned this summer

THE LOUNGE CAR (Air-conditioned)

Looking through the rear lounge room to the glass-enclosed sun porch. Another room of equal size and style occupies the forward end of the Aristocrat's lounge cars.

Between the two are the barber shop and shower bath.

The air-conditioned lounge car is a masterpiece in travel luxury in which gay and modern color harmonizes with classic simplicity of line. Down-filled cushions in easy armchairs connive for your serenity; console table and Colonial lamps hint a homey atmosphere of living-room intimacy.

Here is your choice of current periodicals to read . . . last minute news or a musical program by wireless . . . market reports speeded by telegraph . . . a fountain buffet whence cooling refreshment, afternoon tea, or a midnight snack; the solarium on the rear is a cheerful little back porch enclosed in glass, and screened in summer.

Shower bath and a fully equipped barber shop are other luxuries of travel which this car affords.

THE DINING CAR (Air-conditioned)

The style, quality and decorative treatment of the Aristocrat's dining cars are quite in keeping with the other fine equipment.

Tables are arranged for a maximum of open floor space.

THE ARISTOCRAT

 . . . a la carte service of course, plus table
 d'hote meals . . .
